cases of Affection of Bronchial Tubes and Glands; cases of Thick and Broken Wind; and cases of Inflammation of the lungs,

Messrs. Ford & Grant Gentlemen—I herewith send you, my certificate, for the benefit of those who may be similarly afflicted.

In 1845, became affected with the heaves in an aggravated form—which I endeavored to cure by various means, and for a time, with little success. Having heard of the superb heave powders, I purchased three papers, and found at that time to the present he has been to me entirely sound condition.

UNIVERSAL CONDITION MEDICINE.
And the testimony of an eminent Boston Farrier.

Boston, January 9th 1845.
Messrs. Ford & Grant Gentlemen—At the request of your Agent here, I send you my opinion of your Heave Cure. As an Universal Condition Medicine as well as a sure cure for the Heaves arising from an affection of the lungs, I consider it to be the best medicine extant. For Poll Evil, Quitter, Founder, Dropsy of the Chest, Pleurisy, Jaundice, Hide Bound, Inflammation of the Kidneys and Bladder, it is a valuable compound which operates upon the system in the same manner that Yellow Dock operates upon the human system. Disease in some of the above diseases, and in the whole train of the acute diseases, is the result of the accumulation of the secretions, which takes place during the derangement of the digestive functions, or the circulation of the blood. WHIG NOMINATIONS.

FOR PRESIDENT,

GEN. ZACHARY TAYLOR.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

MILLARD FILLMORE.

FOR GOVERNOR,

ELIJAH L. HAMLIN.

Grand Ratification Meeting at Hampden.

On Saturday evening last the Whigs and the friends of Gen Taylor held a meeting to ratify the nomination of Gen Taylor. It was one of the largest and most spirited political meeting ever held in that town. By invitation, the Rough and Ready Club of this city and a large number of citizens attended the meeting. Capt Sanford of the steamer Penobscot having generously offered to convey the company to Hampden free of charge.

The Club secured the services of the Band and the excursion was really delightful. The procession from the boat to the town house made a very fine appearance, and repeated vociferous the demonstrations in favor of Taylor which they met on their march. A triumphal arch was thrown across the square at the Corner the Town house was brilliantly illuminated and displayed in front a transparency with the motto, while over the whole gracefully waved a large national banner.

Several dwellings were illuminated and received enthusiastic cheers as the Club passed. Salutes were exchanged and every thing passed off cheerfully.

The meeting was called to order by B F. Mudgett and Mr —— Norton appointed President. Z Young Vice President, and C S Crosby Secretary.

The President stated the objects of the meeting.

B. F. Mudgett Esq. introduced resolutions approving and ratifying the proceedings of the Philadelphia Convention and pledging the support of the Whigs of Hampden to the nomination of Taylor and Fillmore.

The meeting was addressed by Chas. S Crosby I. Washburn, J. S. Sayward, A. Sanborn, J. W. Peters, and D. T Jewett, and adjourned with cheers for Gen. Taylor.

On the boat leaving Hampden, rockets were thrown off, while the Band played a spirited air, which gave no little brilliancy to the opening of the campaign in Hampden.

☞ On the subject of the Presidency the N. York Express remarks that "the Whigs have presented Zachary Taylor, a splendid hero, but pledged not to veto acts of Congress upon the ground of expediency, or sanctioned by precedent. The ordinance of 1787, and the subsequent acts of Congress, making Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin and Iowa free territory, are the precedents cited in the opinion of all Whigs of the North and West, justify Congress in enacting another like ordinance for California—to say nothing of the enactment of Congress, restricting slavery of Texas, north of 36,30, or the act admitting Missouri into the Union. The Loco Focos have presented Cassa, Northern man with Southern principles, known to be adverse to the Wilmot Proviso, and pledged to veto any such act of Congress."

When we elect members of Congress who stand by the free soil principles, they can exert all their constitutional powers in Congress to forbid the extention of slavery over contiguous Southern Territory. When we can obtain a majority in both Houses, we can under General Taylor's pledges, forbid slavery extention

Official News of the Ratification of the Treaty.

The Washington Union publishes the following despatch from our Commissioners in Mexico communicating in official form to our Secretary of State, the ratification of the Treaty of Peace.

CITY OF QUERETARO, }
May 25, 1848—9 o'clock P M }

SIR,—We have the satisfaction to inform you that we reached this city this afternoon at about 5 o'clock, and the Treaty as amended by the Senate of the United States passed the Mexican Senate about the hour of our arrival, by a vote of 33 to 5. It having previously passed the House of Deputies, nothing now remains but to exchange the ratifications of the treaty.

At about four leagues from this city we were met by a Mexican escort, under the command of Col Herrera, and were escorted to a house prepared by the Government for our reception. The Minister of Foreign Relations, and the Governor of the city, called upon us, and accompanied us to dinner, which they had previously ordered. So far as the Government is concerned, every civility and honor have been offered us, and Sr. Rosa, the Minister of Foreign Relations, desires us to state that he feels great satisfaction in meeting the Ministers of Peace from the United States.

We will write to you again shortly and more at length, as the courier is on the point of departure.

The city appears to be in a great state of excitation, fireworks going on and bands of music parading in every direction.

We have the honor to be,
Your obedient servants,
A. H. SEVIER,
NATHAN CLIFFORD.

Hon. JAMES BUCHANAN, Sec'y of State.

☞ THE PLAYMATE for May has been laid upon our table by Messrs. G. R. Smith & Co the Bangor agents. This is a work that is popular in England, and is reprint in this country by Messrs. Crosby and Nichols, has a large circulation among the little folks. Some of the stories of the Playmate are not quite the thing for the minds of children and we have been puzzled to explain them. There is much however that pleases and improves.

More Counterfeits.

Two counterfeit bills of the denomination of $2 on the Bank of Lebanon, N. H. were passed at stores in Washington street, Boston, last week.

[From the Cincinnati Gazette.]

Gen. Zachary Taylor.

The nomination of Gen Taylor by the Whig National Convention is responsive to the authoritative voice of the Popular Will of the Whigs of the Union, legitimately expressed in the mode and manner, which they themselves provided.

The nomination proclaims the wide-spread and deep rooted popularity of the patriotic character, and the abiding confidence of the People's Delegates in his political integrity, and in the ability and determination to rescue the country from the agitations, desolations and corruptions of foreign domination.

For, be it remembered, that this nomination is not the echo of the Popular voice, and is not responsive to the boisterous out-cries of office-holding demagogues.

Although Gen Taylor was not our first or second choice, yet we never expressed or entertained a doubt of his integrity, his patriotism, or his ability—and of his availability, his nomination by the convention, and the signs of the times are abundantly significant.

Such a candidate nominated triumphantly by the representatives of the Whigs of the Union in full Convention assembled, cannot fail to receive the cordial support of every true Whig, although his individual preference be not gratified. For a Whig to pursue any other course, would in our opinion, be an indefensible repudiation of the good old Whig doctrine, that the will of the majority governs. Any other course would be affording "aid and comfort" to the heedless party, whose policy and principles, at best, are ruinous to the individual prosperity, and destructive of our constitutional union and liberties.

That General Taylor has done his country great and glorious service in the line of his profession, is the unanimous acclaim of the American People, and truthful history will make the enduring record—that he is "clear-sighted in-think"—sagacious, practical, and widely discriminating in the appreciation of character and selection of counsellors, is disputed by no one—that he "casts no favors from Mr Polk's and his cabinet, and will shrink from no responsibility" in his country's service we have abundant proof—and that he is "capable" as the Chief of a Whig Administration, to give a consistent, constitutional direction to govern mental affairs, is established by his official acts and profession of political faith.

Let us briefly examine his political creed.

In April, 1847, the editor of the Cincinnati Signal sent to Gen Taylor an editorial article, in which of the following

"The new path of safety for those who may hereafter fill the Presidential office is to deal in the discharge of Executive functions, and let the Legislature will out of the people find its place and functions. The American people are about to assume the responsibility of framing the institutions of the Pacific States. We have no fears for the result, if the arm of the high debaters, the assemblies of the people nor the Representative Halls. The exile sons of the Pilgrims have laid the Rock Garden of the Ordinance of 1787 in an age of high and personal hostility to Slavery, and they will not permit it to be disturbed."

To the inquiry from which the above extract is made, Gen Taylor responded in a letter of date May 18, 1847, acknowledging his dangers and other approval of these views and sentiments.

Here, it will be noticed that Gen Taylor decidedly approves of giving to the wise and just acts of Congress "force and effect," unrestricted by Executive vetoes, and that no Executive, who should prevent the extension of the Ordinance of 1787 over newly acquired Mexican territory.

Although a soldier by profession and training, and by the orders of his Government, it is well known that he was opposed to the invasion of Mexico, so advised the Administration, and reluctantly executed the instructions of Mr Polk and ministers. On his return from Mexico he used the following language in a speech at Lafayette:

"The object nearest my heart has been to bring the war to a speedy termination—to restore peace and unity between two neighboring Republics, who have every motive to live in mutual good will, and whom I should much prefer to see vieing with each other in the arts of peace, than contending on the battle field. I always hoped and believed, that the spirit of forbearance and magnanimity with which a great and powerful nation should always practice towards a feeble and predatory enemy, peace might be restored on terms consistent with the honor, the rights and the interests of both nations."

This is peace loving, patriotic, statesmanlike language.

Gen Taylor's Allison letter, contains a full and explicit confession of his political faith. His honest repudiation of the arbitrary exercise of the Veto power, is in striking contrast with the practice and recorded opinions of Locofocism. And the declaration that the acts of Congress upon the subject of the tariff, currency, and Harbor and River improvements should not be arrested by the personal opinions of the individual who may happen to occupy the Executive chair, is in accordance with the heartfelt response from every friend of a Republican Government.

The letter is so important, plain and explicit, that we republish it entire, and ask for it the considerate reading of all good citizens.

Baton Rouge, April 22, 1848.

Capt J. S. Allison—Dear Sir.—My opinions have recently been so often misrepresented, misconstrued, that I deem it due to myself, if not to my friends, to make a brief exposition of them upon the topics to which you have called my attention.

I have consented to the use of my name as a candidate for the Presidency. I have frankly avowed my own distrust of my fitness for that high station, but having, at the solicitation of many of my fellow-citizens, been my position as a candidate, and do not feel at liberty to surrender that position, until my friends manifest a wish that I should retire from it. I will then most gladly do so. I have no private purposes to accomplish—no party projects to build up—no enemies to punish—nothing to serve, but my country.

I have been very often addressed by letter, and my opinions have been asked upon almost every question that might occur to the writers, as affecting the interest of their country or their party. I have not always responded to them in questions, for various reasons.

I confess, whilst I have great cardinal principles, which will regulate my politics, life, I am not sufficiently familiar with all the minute details of political legislation, to give solemn pledges to exert my influence, if I were President, to carry out this or defeat that measure. I have no such pledges. I hold no opinion which I would not readily proclaim to my assembled countrymen, but evade compromising upon the trio of policy, which may be right to-day and wrong to-morrow, for perhaps not the best test of fitness for office. One who cannot be trusted without pledges, cannot be confided in merely on account of them.

I will, however, respond to your inquiries.

First—I reiterate what I have often said—I am a Whig, but not an ultra Whig. If elected, I would not be the mere President of a party. I would endeavor to act independent of party domination. I should feel bound to administer the Government, untrammelled by party schemes.

Second—The Veto Power—the power given by the Constitution to the Executive to interpose objections, is a high conservative power, but in my opinion should never be exercised, except in cases of clear violation of the Constitution, or manifest haste and want of consideration by Congress. Indeed, I have thought that for many years past, the known opinions and wishes of the Executive, have exercised undue and improper influence upon the Legislative Department of the Government, and from this cause I have thought our system was in danger of made going a step further from its true principles. The personal opinions of the individual who may happen to occupy the Executive Chair ought not to control the action of Congress upon questions of Domestic Policy, nor ought his objections to be interposed, when questions of Constitutional power have been settled by the various Departments of Government, and acquiesced in by the People.

Third—Upon the subject of the tariff, the currency, the improvement of our great highways by rivers, lakes and harbors, the will of the people as expressed through their representatives in Congress, ought to be respected and carried out by the Executive.

Fourth—The Mexican war. I sincerely rejoice at the prospect of peace. My life has been devoted to arms. I look upon war at all times and under all circumstances, as a national calamity to be avoided if compatible with national honor. The principles of our Government, as well as its true policy, are opposed to the subjugation of other nations and the dismemberment of others countries by conquest. In the language of the great Washington, "why should we quit our own, to stand on foreign ground."

In the Mexican war, our national honor has been vindicated, amply vindicated, and in dictating terms of peace, we may well afford to be forbearing and even magnanimous to our fallen foe.

These are my opinions upon the subjects referred to by you, and any reports or publications written or verbal, from any source, differing in any essential particulars from what is herein written, are unauthorized or untrue.

I do not know that I shall again, write upon the subject of national politics. I shall engage in no schemes, no combination, no intrigues—If the American people have not confidence in me, they ought not to give me their suffrages. If they do not, you know me well enough to believe me when I declare I shall be content. I am truly your friend and servant.

CONGRESS.

Washington June 22

In the Senate, on Thursday a resolution was offered, that hereafter the hour of meeting shall be at 11 o'clock. Adopted.

Mr Calhoun opposed an adjournment, and moved to lay the resolution on the table.

Mr Berrien thought the resolution ought to be acted upon.

In the Senate, Wednesday, Mr Niles introduced a uniform Postage Bill, the rates on letters to be three cents, the newspapers one cent. Passed.

The naval appropriation bill was passed.

In the House, on Mr Cobb's motion to print 10,000 copies of the Report on Walker's letters, Mr Belmont made a speech and was replied to by Mr Strohm.

The Bill allowing temporary absence to naturalized foreigners, without losing citizenship, was passed.

In the House, the bill for the extension of the pension law passed.

The Mississippi resolution was laid aside.

The Naval Post route Bill was debated. There was considerable excitement as it extends south beyond the limits of Texas.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole on the Appropriation Bill.

Mr Holland spoke in favor of the Roman Mission, and offered an amendment making Chase, Austin and Parker, full Ministers; the amendment was laid aside.

A resolution was adopted reducing the Naval appropriation.

The bill relating to the importation of adulterated drugs was then passed.

HISTORY OF THE INDIAN TRIBES OF NORTH AMERICA.

We refer to our advertising columns in which it will be seen that Mr Bugbee is the agent to dispose of this truly national work. The publication is now in the fifth part, and each part illustrated by four Indian Portraits exquisitely painted. As specimen copies may be seen at Mr Bugbee's Bookstore. The Introduction of this work will be sold a few years since for $120 and has in a perfect fac simile except in the size of the page and splendid subscribers at $7 00. The portraits in the number are extraordinarily rich and life-like and in short it represents the Indian in his native character. He who can add this work to his library may with propriety feel that he has done much, to enlighten the present and future generations.

The following is the preface to the work:—

The following edition of The History of the Indian Tribes of North America with Biographical Sketches and Anecdotes of the Principal Chiefs, embellished with one Hundred and twenty Portraits, from the Indian Gallery in the Department of War at Washington, by Thomas L. McKenney, late of the Indian Department, Washington, and James Hall, Esq. of Cincinnati, —it is been pronounced by the learned and polished men of Europe and America, to be one of the most valuable and interesting productions of the present age. In Europe, it is, at this moment, finding its way, under the patronage of royalty, into the libraries of lords and nobles, and of the learned and wealthy of all classes—whilst in America it has met a most flattering reception, and has been subscribed for by numerous citizens, of whose patronage any author might feel himself proud.

This universal approval of the following edition of the work, has induced the publisher of the present edition to alter the size to royal octavo, and thus place it within the reach of the thousands, who with taste and learning equal to those of the patrons of the large edition, have no less capacity to appreciate its worth and beauties.

The publisher confidently refers it to the public to decide, whether the most perfect indistinct not observed in every department of the work—as well in the title like expression of the portraits and their coloring, as in the typography and the paper.

The editor, Col Thos L McKenney, in the revision of the work of his own conception, will introduce, as he may find occasion, new matter, with two additional illustrations, at least, will be introduced, further to adorn and beautify, and give interest as well as increased value to the work. One of these will be a likeness of Wasaw-gun-ga-nay, surrounded by vignettes illustrating his fatherly care of the red race, who, to this day, cherish a grateful sense of his unwavering and untiring parental solicitude for their improvement, preservation and happiness. The other will be a likeness of Red Bird, in the attitude of throwing away the dust from between his thumb and finger, signifying that in the manner he had surrendered and parted from his life.

The publisher has the happiness to believe, that he is not forcing upon the public this edition of this truly national work, but that he is only responding to the universal demand for it, by those whose intelligence, and taste for the fine arts, enable them to appreciate its value.—He also believes that the smaller edition will be preferred to the large, as it is better suited for a library.

J. T. BOWEN, PUBLISHER.

The Norwich Courier states that among the Vice Presidents of the Rough and Ready Club, in that city, they recognize the names of both Locos prominent and influential men, who have lately supported the Locofoco party and its nominees.

Nomination of Martin Van Buren for the Presidency.

The telegraphic report of the Portland Umpire, under date of New York, June 21, states that Martin Van Buren was on that day nominated for President by the Barnburner convention assembled at Utica, and Henry Dodge for Vice President of the United States.

Mr Van Buren does not favor the nomination of either the democratic or Philadelphia nominations. Gen Cass will therefore, of course, receive no favor at his hands.

At the late exposition from the Utica convention, Mr Butler was speaking. He says that Mr Van Buren cannot refuse him to nomination.

Among the letters read at the convention, was one from Hoyt, name not stated, and closes with the wish that Martin Van Buren might be the candidate for President.

It never leaves the stomach in an irritable state, as the pain and nausea have disappeared in a few minutes after taking the first dose, and a perfect cure is effected in a very short space of time, in most cases.

Chronic Diarrhœa,

Sea Sickness.

It is most pleasant and desirable remedy for Sea Sickness. It checks the vomiting and nausea, and restores the patient to perfect health. It checks vomiting, performed in every case where given. It is also a most valuable remedy for children teething, and is equally as good for grown persons. It is unsurpassed, being directly on the stomach, the Heart, and within a few minutes after taking the Steam from a Rail Road Car is felt.

It can be relied on at all times, and cannot be surpassed with the following testimonials of well known and respectable citizens of Bangor, and their Wives and Children, having been effected with great cure, or an entire relief and satisfaction.
